THE FESTIVAL WAS SAVED THIS YEAR

Local businesses came together to save the Bermondsey Street Festival which is in it's 18th year this year! What began as a small fete, has grown into one of London's most exciting street festivals, attracting visitors from far and wide. The festival is vital to our vibrant community spirit and independent businesses that make this charming street so special.

Our goal is to preserve this beloved tradition and showcase the creativity, talent, and resilience of Bermondsey Street for years to come.

WE NEED YOUR HELP

Everyone that works for the festival volunteers their time outside of their full time jobs. To keep it going we are seeking more of the community to help us with its continuation for 2025!
